Amy Smith This last March at the Chintimini Shows
In Albany, Echo and I earned High Combined in Rally
With Judge Theresa Temple, w 2 100's. This was my first HC and what a great partner to have by my side.

Barbara Watrous, both Hoodie and Pistol earned Senior passes at the Rogue Valley Retriever Club hunt test. Now their handler (me) is trying to recover from a horrible viral upper respiratory infection.

Jan Lewis, My young obedience prospect, Aratone's Royal Intrigue "Elle" has been shown in the breed ring while awaiting her obedience debut. She has had great success at the big Sheltie Specialties in Dixon California April 1 and 2nd. She was WB for 5 pts on April 1st and 4pts on April 2nd. Nine points in 2one weekend! She was beautifully groomed and handled by her breeder Marie Eguro.

Barbara Wert Lori (yellow lab) earned her Advanced Exterior title at the UKC nosework events at Port Angeles. Also, she found all 7 hides for the weekend, bringing home 10 ribbons for 4 events! The following weekend she got her NW2 title in Bellingham on her first try at NW2! We came in 9th out of 38 teams which I was very pleased with considering she's almost completely blind and I have to help her out. That means I have to take her right up to the vehicles because she cannot see them from the starting line. We get no extra time or consideration because of her disability so just have to learn a special kind of teamwork.

How Dogs' Sensitive Noses Could Change Cancer Diagnosis

By Kathryn Bowers

The humble snout has a lot to offer research.

If you could “see” a smell, it would look something like a drop of food coloring dispersing through a cup of water with intense knots in some places and misty tendrils around the borders. Olfaction scientists call these “odor landscapes” see article at
